The Convention of the Congregational Ministers in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Is a voluntary Association, embracing all the Congregational Clergy of the Commonwealth, but vested with no particular authority or control over the churches.

Their meeting is held in Boston, in the afternoon of the last Wednesday in May, annually, at five, P. M. and the following day. After transacting the usual business of the Convention, a sermon is delivered in public before them, and a collection made for the charitable purpose of relieving the indigent Widows of Congregational Clergymen.

The Officers of the Convention at present are —

Rev. George Ripley, of Boston, Treasurer.
Rev. George W. Blagden, of Boston, Scribe of the Convention.
Rev. Prof. Stuart, first Preacher.
Rev. Samuel Gile, second Preacher.

For the purpose of investigating cases of necessity, and of application for the charity of the Convention, there are two standing Committees; a Central Committee, chosen centrally, and a Reporting Committee, whose members reside in different parts of the State. The Reporting Committee are required, each year, to investigate the circumstances of the objects of this charity, whether already on the list, or needing, or applying the first time for aid, and make a particular statement to the Central Committee, directed to the Scribe of the Convention, at least one week before the meeting of the Convention. Should any member neglect so to do for two successive years, his place in the Reporting Committee shall be vacated. The Central Committee receive from the members of the Reporting Committee applications and statements of facts in behalf of subjects of the charity of the Convention, and, having considered the same, are to judge of the persons to be relieved, and the proportion to be given to each, and make report to the Convention, on the first day of their meeting, annually.

The statements of the members of the Reporting Committee are expected to contain answers to the following questions—

1. What is her age?
2. What are the number, the sex, the ages, and the circumstances of her children?
3. What is a fair estimate of her property?
4. What is her ability to help herself?
5. What connexions has she, who are bound to afford her assistance? And in what way do they assist her?
6. What is her income?
7. What peculiar circumstances render her an object of charity; or make it desirable, that she should have aid this year?

Annual meeting on the Monday preceding the last Wednesday in May.

[This Society was incorporated 24th of March, 1786; "for the humane and benevolent purpose of affording relief and support to the widows and children of deceased ministers. The members may not exceed thirty of the clergy, and laity in equal proportion."]

President, Peter C. Brooks.

Treasurer, George Ticknor.

Committee for nominating the objects of its charity, Rev. Dr. Lowell, Rev. Dr. Pierce.

General Association in Massachusetts.

This body was organized in June, 1805. It is composed of delegations from particular Associations of evangelical Congregational Ministers, two from each Association. Its members "admit as articles of faith, the doctrines of Christianity, as they are generally expressed in the Assembly's Shorter Catechism," and consider these doctrines which have been generally embraced by the churches of New England, as the "basis of their union." This body wholly disclaims ecclesiastical power or authority over the churches, or the opinions of individuals. The essential objects, as expressed in their Constitution, are "to promote brotherly intercourse and harmony, and their mutual animation, assistance, and usefulness as ministers of Christ."

CITY REGISTER.

City of Boston Incorporated February 23, 1822.

CITY HALL.

This edifice, now in the occupancy of the Municipal Officers of the City, was erected in 1714. The expense was borne equally between the then Province and Town of Boston. By a severe fire, in 1747, it became necessary to entirely rebuild the interior: again, the Province paid one half of the expense, the County of Suffolk one quarter, and the inhabitants of Boston were assessed for the remainder. On the 21st of November 1832, the City Hall accidentally took fire again, from a spark, it is supposed, from a building on fire on the north side of State Street, directly opposite. Though considerably damaged in the roof, the public records were not injured, nor much of the furniture of the public offices. Three thousand five hundred dollars was appropriated to make the necessary repairs. After the Revolution, it was the place of meeting for the General Court, till after the completion of the State-House, near Beacon hill. From about that time, to the year 1830, (thirty years,) the lower floor and cellar, were used by various tradesmen, Insurance Offices, &c. At the close of 1830, having been thoroughly repaired, it was, by an ordinance of the City Government, called the CITY HALL,—by which name it is hereafter to be designated. It stands at the head of State Street, and on the line of Washington Street, the Broadway of the Metropolis of Massachusetts. Its length is 112 feet, by 36 in width, with a tower, overlooking most of the city and harbour, rising from the centre of the roof. Being in the very focus of business, and nearly in the centre of the city, the use to which this venerable pile is now devoted, appears to give universal satisfaction.

On the first floor are three large rooms: that facing Washington Street, is the Post-Office. At the other extremity, looking down State Street, is the Marine News Room, one of the best conducted establishments, for the accommodation of Merchants, in the United States. The middle room, a lofty apartment, supported by pillars, is the exchange, and common thorough-fare to the Public Offices.

From this central room or Merchants' Exchange, is a flight of winding stairs, leading to a suit of apartments, in the second story. Directly over the Post-Office is the splendid Hall of the Common Council. Opposite, over the Merchants' Exchange Room, is the no less richly and tastefully ornamented Hall of the Mayor and Aldermen. In this room, the Chief Magistrate of the City, together with the City Clerk, remain through the day, in the discharge of their ordinary duties. The Board of Aldermen hold their meetings on Monday evenings.—Around the circular area of the stairs, are a series of Offices, viz. the Auditor's, Treasurer's, Clerk of Common Council, and the Health Office, which latter accomodates the City Marshal, Superintendent of Burial Grounds, Captain of the Watch, Superintendent of Lamps and the Commissioner of Streets.

Another flight of stairs leads to the third story, in which is the Office of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, City Land Commissioner, Messenger, a Committee Room, Post-Master's private apartment, and a large Hall, in which is a recently organized public Vaccine Institution, for the gratuitous innoculation of the poor, during the winter months.

The whole is lighted with gas, as well as the lamps at the four corners of the building. Besides being highly ornamental to the city, the concentration of so many important offices under one roof, renders the City Hall an object of peculiar interest.

Legal Knowledge in the Relation of Husband and Wife.

In law, husband and wife are considered as one person; and, on this principle, all their civil duties, rights, and disabilities rest.

The wife cannot sue in her own name.

If she suffers injury, or wrong, in her person or property, she can, with her husband's aid and concurrence, prosecute for redress; but the husband must always be the defendant. In criminal cases, however, these relations assume a new form. The wife may, in criminal cases, be prosecuted and punished.

The wife can make no contract with the husband, nor the husband with the wife. This disability is involved in the first principle, which makes them legally one. But they may contract, through the agency of trustees, the wife being under protection of the husband.

All contracts made between them before marriage, are dissolved upon that event.

The husband cannot convey lands or rent estates of his wife directly, but he may settle them upon her through a trusteeship. The wife may release her dower to his grantee. As it respects the right of bequest, the husband can always devise real estate to his wife.

Upon marriage, the husband becomes possessed of all right and title to her property, whether personal or real; and, at the same time, he becomes liable for all debts, and must fulfil all her contracts made prior to their union.

If the wife die before the husband, and there be no issue, her heirs succeed to her real estate.

But in case of issue, the husband remains in possession of her lands during his life time only; and, at his demise, they go to the heirs of his wife. All debts due to the wife, become, after marriage, the property of the husband, who becomes invested with the power to sue on bond, note, or any other obligation, to his own and exclusive use. The powers of discharges and assignments, and change of securities, are involved in the leading principle.

If he dies before the recovery of the money, or the change of securities, the wife becomes entitled to the debts in her own right.

All personal property of the wife, such as money, goods, movables, and stocks, become absolutely the property of the husband, upon marriage, and on his death, to his heirs.

Property may be secured to the wife, by deed or marriage settlement, in order to secure to the wife a comfortable competence against the vicissitudes of life, or the extravagance, vices, or cruelty of her husband.

Property may be settled on the wife, after the marriage, by the husband, provided he be solvent at the time, and not made with a view to defraud creditors.

The wife cannot demise lands; but any personal or real estate settled upon her in trust she may bequeath; or any savings from the property given to her separate use.

The husband is bound to provide his wife with all necessaries suited to her condition in life; and becomes liable for debts contracted by her for such necessaries, but not for superfluities or extravagances.

The husband and wife cannot be witnesses against each other, in civil or criminal cases, where the testimony has the least tendency to favour or criminate each other.

One exception to this rule exists, where the law respecting the personal safety and life of the wife, permits her to give testimony against her husband for her own protection.

COMMISSIONERS resident in other States, who have been appointed by the Government of Massachusetts to take testimony and depositions to be read in the Courts of Massachusetts,—also to administer Oaths and to take the acknowledgment of Deeds, Powers of Attorney, and all instruments under seal to be recorded in said Commonwealth.
